ADMISSION.

It is required that candidates for admission be not less than fourteen years of age for the Freshman class, with a corresponding increase for an advanced standing,—that they furnish evidence of good moral character, and, if from another College, a regular dismission, and that they sustain a satisfactory examination on the PREPARATORY STUDIES, or for an advanced class, on the several studies to which the class they propose to enter has attended. None can be admitted into the Senior class after the winter vacation.

PREPARATORY STUDIES.

1. English, Latin, and Greek Grammar, including the prosody and correct accentuation in reading. [The Latin Grammar of Andrews and Stoddard is preferrred.]
2. Virgil's Æneid.
3. Cicero's Select Orations.
4. Prose of the Greek Reader. [Or Greek Testament and Græca Minora.]
5. Geography and Arithm etic.

The ENTRANCE EXAMINATION is held on the day preceding Commencement, and on the last day of the ensuing vacation.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

The whole course of instruction occupies four years. Each year is divided into three terms. The students in all the classes attend three recitations or lectures on each of the six days, except Wednesdays and Saturdays. On these days they have two recitations, besides attending to public exhibitions in the Chapel, of Declamation, Select Translations from the Classics, Original Essays, and Specimens in Oratory.

The object of the course is to form the mind to habits of accurate discrimination, close reasoning, and vigorous application; and at the same time to furnish it with great leading facts and principles in Literature, Science, and the Arts. Assuming that a solid foundation of elementary knowledge has been laid during the preparatory course, the Student is expected in his first and second years, to cultivate a critical perception of the force and beauty of the classic writers, and copiousness, freedom and precission in the use of his own language, by the practice of translation. In Mathematics, he is to complete the elements of Geometrical and Analytical Science, and their most interesting applications. And, preparatory to his Philosophical studies, the elements of Logic and Rhetoric.

With these aids during his two last years, he is chiefly occupied in the study of God's wondrous works—the forms, combinations, properties and laws of matter, from its atomic elements, to the mighty masses of the celestial mechanism—the phenomena of mind, or man, intellectual, moral, social, accountable, immortal.

The following is a general view of the studies of each term.

FRESHMAN CLASS.

I. TERM.	Folsom's Livy. Xenophon's Anabasis. Principles of General Grammar—De Lacy. Day's Algebra.

Books of Reference. Adams' Roman Antiquities, Potter's Greek do. Lempriere's Classical Dictionary, Butler's Ancient Atlas, Kent's Commentaries, Duer's Outlines of Constitutional Law, Ferguson on Civil Society.

Lectures are delivered on Chemistry, Mineralogy, Natural Philosophy, Astronomy, Classical Literature, and Legal and Political Science.

The Department of Law, History, Civil Polity and Political Economy, is arranged as a part of the subgraduate course of instruction, agreeably to the intention of the founder; and will be fully entered upon as soon as the bequest of Mr. Maynard shall be productively invested. In the mean time, the services of the Professor, so far as they still continue to be a charge on the general fund of the College, will be required, as heretofore, in other departments of instruction.

There are stated and frequent exercises of Composition and Declamation, in all the classes, and in Forensic Disputation in the Senior and Junior classes.

The College Library and the Society Libraries, amounting to about 9,000 volumes, are at all times accessible to students.

Religious Instruction. Prayers are attended in the College Chapel every morning and evening, with reading of the scriptures, and two public services are generally attended in the Chapel on the Sabbath, when all the Students are required to attend, except such as have permission to attend at other places of worship.

PAYMENT OF BILLS.

A Student admitted to an advanced standing, unless from another College, is charged to the Sophomore class $7, to the Junior $10, and to the Senior $12.

It is provided by a resolution of the Board of Trustees,

1. That no Student shall be permitted to enter on a second or any succeeding term, until he shall have paid, or secured to the satisfaction of the Treasurer, the fees of the preceding term. And,

2. That no Student can have an honorable dismission from this College, or certificate of his previous attendance in it, until all his bills are paid, or satisfactorily secured.

ABSTRACT OF LAWS.

The members of this institution are expected to manifest, in speech and action, all proper respect and obedience to the government of the College, a gentlemanly deportment towards each other, and in all their conduct a practical compliance with the dictates of morality and the laws of the land.

In addition to these general rules, the following things are to be regarded as particularly prohibited:

1. Absence from any prescribed collegiate exercise.
2. Absence from rooms during hours allotted to study, and after 10 o'clock at night.
3. Unnecessary noise or disturbance at any hour.
4. The keeping or using of fire-arms, or gunpowder, or fire-works of any kind.
5. The use of ardent spirits.
6. Intoxication from any cause.
7. Playing at cards or other unlawful game.
8. Injury to the College buildings, fences, &c.
9. Absence from the town of Kirkland during term.
10. Improper deportment towards citizens, and injuries to their property.
11. Students are not allowed to board nor hold any social meetings in any place where a bar is kept.

The penalties consequent on a non-compliance with the laws and regulations of College, are a series of warnings, five in number, preparatory to the separation of the offender from College, if he continues unreclaimed.

For offenses requiring more than a single warning, the offender may be placed on any part of the scale, or dismissed at once, if the nature of the offense require it.

Every warning is accompanied with a letter to the parent or guardian.

Unexceptionable deportment, and regularity, for one term, shall remove one warning from the record.

Absence from College.—The portion of the year allotted to vacations, is so great, as to render it quite unnecessary for the Students to visit their friends during term, except for urgent and unforeseen reasons. The occasional loss of a day can not fail to have an unfavorable bearing on the intellectual habits and standing of the Student. It is hoped that parents and guardians will concur with the Faculty in their opinion of the inexpediency of granting leave of absence in ordinary cases.
